and ENDANGERED

America's Bald Eagle.

In his headlong rush to alter the natural world, man has wiped out many wild species. Passenger pigeons once formed such huge flocks as to darken the sky—50 years ago, the last one died in an Ohio zoo. The Labrador duck, giant sea mink, great auk and many other life forms have passed from existence since Europeans landed on America's shores.

Many other creatures are on the thin edge of oblivion; some can be saved, others perhaps not, but all of them deserve a chance if only because man cannot be the only living animal on earth.

The bald eagle, this country's national bird, is in jeopardy. In a recent year, there were only 230 active eagle nests in the prime nesting areas of the south; only 96 nests were successful in hatching young. The reason is being sought.

Alligators, once found throughout our Southeast and west to the Rio Grande, wear skins that are valuable for leather items. Now, they exist only in Southeast coastal waters, in small numbers.

Hawaii has suffered greater losses to extinction than any other State. Sixteen species of native birds have gone, about 20 others are in danger, including the nene or Hawaiian goose. The nene lives on lava slopes of Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea volcanoes, 5,000 to 8,000 feet above sea level, an area so arid the webs of their feet have almost disappeared.

The timber wolf, once ranged across much of North America. In the "lower 48" states, they are now found only in isolated sections along Lake Superior and on Isle Royale in the Lake, although still relatively plentiful in Canada and Alaska.

The best known endangered creature in the United States is the whooping crane. There were only 14 whoopers left when the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife began keeping records in 1938. Their numbers painfully increased to 43 in 1966. Because of their 2,500-mile migration between nesting grounds in Canada and their wintering area on the Texas Gulf, whoopers are difficult to protect.

The Department of the Interior hopes to save endangered species of wildlife through research, development of sanctuaries, and other measures provided by the Endangered Species Preservation Act of 1966. 78 mammals, birds, reptiles, and fishes have been selected by Interior for special attention under this new law.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

THE COLOR SHE WEARS GIVES HER AWAY: Which is she really—a tigress or a shy mouse? Say the scientific moguls of Penn State University, a girl's color preferences in her clothes have a lot to do with her personality. Their findings among coeds on the campus show: Self-confident girls go for more complex but more neutral colors... like grays and beiges... and in less warm, medium-value hues. Those plagued with insecurity wrap themselves in bright, simple colors, favoring extremes of dark or light shades... prefer warmth in color. Hearing of these discoveries, leading manufacturers of the "innerwear" industry conducted a kind of scientific survey by voicing their expert opinions about colors, girls and underwear. Three conclusions: "Women are too fascinating to try to figure out scientifically"... "I personally believe a woman's secret desires are reflected in her underwear"... "I don't care whether they're secure or not—as long as they buy." End of scientific survey.

ARE MEN DETERIORATING? QUERIES QUANT. Mary Quant, young, British, top-since-mod designing success, just flew in and out of United States from London. She's famed for "fab" clothes for birds, loving our jeans and saying just what she thinks. Quant quote: "Men have become far too clean. Women taught them to scrub and use deodorants and sharp scents. But when men designed scents for women, they left in the smell of she. The most attractive smell in the world is new, hot sweat—it's old sweat that's unattractive. What you want is a clean man, but the clean smell should go off completely so that you're left with the real smell of the man. We must get the smell back into men." Ole!

DO YOU READ MAO'S THOUGHTS WHILE YOU EAT? Probably fastest growing food taste in America over the past decade or so has been for Chinese. Half of all families now fork it up... and more in homes with young adult appetites. How in the name of Mao did simple Yankees come to favor this complex oriental cuisine? Simple! World War II GIs brought back from the Pacific a taste for the mouth-watering delicacies. A new Marco Polo, Italian immigrant's son, Jeno Palucci, took a chance, started raising bean sprouts in a Quonset hut in Duluth... Flooded with orders he branched out into the Chun King Corp., became the leader (now sells $50 million a year) in this Chinese food field.

SURE, HE SAYS, eat way-out shark fin and bird's nest soup (if you can find them), but rely on Chinese staples of beef, pork, chicken and seafood (fish should always be cooked with head and tail on)... along with Chinese vegetables... and great sauces. Chinese diet, high in nutrients, low in calories, is well-balanced and dubbed by experts, the "food of the future"... Maybe is new, the way you down eggrolls, et cetera? Want new, offbeat, dishes? Try: Chop suey burgers that mix burger beef with frozen beef chop suey and chow mein noodles, served up on a buttered bun... Nutty noodle-ball candy that combines salted peanuts with chow mein noodles, both stirred into melted caramel... And if these don't wreck you, sprinkle tiny crunchy Chinese noodles on puddings, jellied desserts and ice cream.

EATING THIS JEWELRY IS COSTLY: What, you've never heard of Belgian-born John Fischer's new edible-type jewelry? These pretzel necklaces, Melba toast brooches, cracker earrings, bagel paperweights? Well, this unique spring line is out in all the glory of its baked giggles... permanently prepared with clear coatings of epoxy lacquer and—for pins and brooches—coin-sized vinyl backing. Featured for early 1967 are outsize pretzel necklaces, earrings that are a single, delicate pretzel ring, or tiny six-sided oyster crackers, rounds of Melba toast, dangling straight pretzel sticks and beautiful brooches of pure saltines. Rock-hard, you can throw the fragile-looking jewelry on the floor and jump on it. Girls won't want to eat these bedeckings (but if they keep pet cockroaches they might).

VICKIE ELLEN BRUCE

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd John Bruce, Vicki, age 23, is a contestant in the Miss Hope Pageant to be held Saturday night, May 13, in Hope High School Auditorium. Vicki is a 1962 graduate of Hope High School and attended Anderson Business College. She is 5'7 inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has green eyes and red hair and vital statistics are 35-23-35. Vicki has made tape recordings for radio stations in New Orleans, Pittsburgh and Toronto. Her hobbies include music and sports and she has had special training in piano and voice.

Life In Arkansas

By TOMMY YATES

Associated Press Writer

April 30 should prove to be an interesting day in the lives of Arkansans. That's D-S Day, or when the state begins to observe Daylight Saving Time.

It would seem to be a simple matter to pull out the stem on your watch or twist the big knob on your alarm clock. The major point, however, is not how many Arkansans will advance their time pieces, but how many will not, through forgetfulness.

Those who do remember will, you might say, step an hour into the future, and they will have no problems.

For those who forget, however, it could mean chaos.

For instance, think of all those who will be sneered at and scolded for reporting an hour late for work if they don't realize their mistake soon enough. Sympathy will be due the milkman who delivers milk after you've already had breakfast.

What embarrassment it will be for the banker who forgets to take into consideration the time element before closing Friday and must wait an hour before the time-controlled vault will open on Monday.

Ministers will wonder if there's a fishing tournament going on when they face a small congregation at the appropriate hour Sunday morning. And what a feeling of emptiness those churchgoers would feel when they arrived as church was dismissing.

For the most part, though, the transition from standard to saving time is expected to be tranquil, at least after the first day or two.

Then for four months Arkansans will be able to enjoy more daylight hours after they punch the time clock in the afternoon. DST will end Oct. 30, making that another interesting day in Arkansas. For then, the clocks must be set back an hour, and for those who forget, well, that's life in Arkansas.

Senator Has Bout With Flu

LOS ANGELES (AP) — U.S. Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., hopes to be back in Washington, D.C., early next week after a bout with the flu.

The senator, who entered Good Samaritan Hospital April 19, said Thursday he plans to stay on several more days "to make sure I'm completely recovered."

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! in this newspaper.

FATHER WON'T GIVE HIM THE BOOT

Dear Helen: It comes time for me to buy shoes and my Dad wants me to get clunkers like with round toes and flat heels and laces.

He says before I get boots, I will go barefooted. I don't want real boots—just the low "ankle" kind with a little heel. They look sharp and the other guys wear them. Why not me?—BAREFOOT BOY

Dear Boy: If your Dad says "No", I won't have much luck changing his mind. In fact, anything I say in your favor may be used against you, but here goes anyway.

I've always thought parents should go along with teen styles, just so they aren't too wild — and certainly low boots aren't. But if this is a real burning issue, go along with your folks. They'll see your side much sooner if you're mature enough to see theirs. Good luck! —H.

Dear Helen: What's the wildest letter you've gotten this month? We like to hear the nutty ones. —THE KIDS

Dear Kids: How about this: Dear Helen: My sisters and I are Siamese Triplets. My one sister and I hate, hate, hate the third. Here's why:

1. She is in the middle of us two and always wants the aisle seat in the movies.

2. She closes the shower door on one of us or the other.

3. We have to sit on the arms of chairs while she gets the cushion.

4. She is forever falling downstairs and we come tumbling alongside.

5. She loves hammocks.

6. However we plead she insists on playing baseball. Boy, when she swings that bat! And she loves waterskiing—horrible, just horrible. Besides, she plans to be a trapeze artist.

We could write lots more but the silly thing wakes up easily, and pretty soon she'll feel the typewriter on her stomach. This is a joint effort. —CYN AND MARN

Dear Helen: This boy is just about the most. He's tuff, tuff, and real sharp looking. My heart goes ker-ke-ka-thump every time I see him.

When he asks for dates, it seems I can't go as I always have something else planned. He's been asking often lately.

How can I explain so he won't get the impression I don't want to go out with him? I'd die if he gave up. Please help me. I'll have one less worry. —NANCY

Dear Nancy: Either this boy hasn't learned to ask ahead, or else you're much too busy. Must you book yourself so far in advance? And, if so, couldn't you cancel some of your other plans? Sharp, tuff-tuff-tuff boys don't grow on trees, you know. —H.

Dear Helen: I am in love with Linda, a respectful girl of 16. We want to get married when we're through college. The big problem now is a former boyfriend of hers has started writing to her. He's in the Air Force. She says it's just friendly and he's lonely; she wants to answer. I say he's a troublemaker and trying to break us up. She thinks I'm unreasonable, and I think he's a threat, even if he won't be home for 15 months. What do you think? —H. B.

Dear H: Let her write! A bird at hand is worth two air-men overseas, or something!

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star, Copyright, 1967, Inc.

Pageant to Be Held on May 13

The Miss Hope Pageant, official preliminary contest of the Miss America Pageant, and presented annually by the Hope Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Saturday, May 13, at 8 p.m. in the Hope High School Auditorium.

Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964, will be Mistress of ceremonies.

To date, five Hope young ladies have entered the contest. They are: Vicki Ellen Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd John Bruce; Brenda Gail Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cross; Carolyn Barwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barwick; Gayle Williams, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Mae Williams and Dora Ann King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank King.

Admission to the pageant is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. Advance tickets may be obtained from members of the Jaycees.

Any young lady wishing to enter this year's pageant may contact Bill Barnes at 7-2290 or Jerry Alexander at 7-3852. Deadline for entering the contest is Wednesday noon, May 3. Official rules include: Ages 18 to 28, high school graduate by September of this year, must be single and never been married, must be a resident of Hempstead County for the past six months, entrant must possess and display in a maximum of three minutes a talent presentation; this talent may be singing, dancing, playing a musical instrument, dramatic reading, art display, dress designing, creative poetry, writing, etc., or she may give a talk on the career she wishes to pursue including teaching, nursing, law medicine, business, etc. Entrant may be either amateur or professional.

Presidential rule was imposed on the state March 13 after opposition riots in which nine persons were killed and hundreds were injured. The violence followed the governor's decision to let the Congress, the largest party in the legislature, form a government although it lost its majority in the February election.

Grant Denies His Marriage on Rocks

BRISTOL, England (AP) —

Movie star Cary Grant arrived alone in his English birthplace Thursday night and denied that his marriage was on the rocks.

Grant told newsmen he and his fourth wife Dyan "are great friends."

Grant has been married to the 29-year-old actress for just over two years. They have a daughter, Jennifer, 13 months.

"I shall be bringing the family when I come back to England this summer to make a film," he said.

BAD, BAD, BAD LUCK
SALYERSVILLE, Ky. (AP) - One of Bob Prater's friends decided to defy the Friday the 13th jinx by walking under a ladder. As the man did so, he tripped over a black cat and broke both his ankles and his New Year's resolution. The resolution had been not to swear for an entire year.

Except The LORD Build The HOUSE They Labor In Vain That Build It

HOLD ON

How we love to watch these trapeze artists perform! We watch them in amazement, though feeling some peril in their doings. We can almost hear the crowd say "Hold On!" It is a parable of you and me. God is the strong member of the team. We live every day in peril and difficulty... we hang from His hand.

We must hold to the hand of God if we win. Prayer is our aid to keep his hand in ours. We read The Book and attend His church for courage and strength. But a closer look will give us hope. We are "holding on" to God but better still God is "holding on" to us.

God does not faint or grow weary. Then "hold on" to Him, for "He shall renew thy strength."

You In The Church

The Church In You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Too often we are inclined to think that anybody who spends a dollar for advertising does it from a purely selfish standpoint. But here, public-spirited, God-worshiping people, are paying each week to insert in this paper a full page, from which they will draw no quick response nor prompt sale. These people are good and humble business men — We owe them our gratitude.

The bidding in the box shows how the slam is bid by use of the Jacoby transfer. North's two diamond response shows at least five hearts and demands that South go to two hearts. South replies dutifully. North's three diamond bid is a game force. South does not know if it is showing a heart-diamond two-suiter or is a slam try of some sort. In any event South goes to four diamonds to find out. North's four heart bid says, "I might have bid four hearts right away but I wanted to suggest slam possibilities. South's five-heart bid announces a no-trump of maximum quality for play at hearts. North accepts the invitation and goes on to the slam.

Red-White Game Ends With 1 TD

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Whites gained field position on the last play of the first period and under the guidance of sophomore Noel Dempsey, drove 50 yards for the only touchdown of the Arkansas Red-White game here Friday night.

Dempsey took the Whites 50 yards in slightly over two minutes and the White defense preserved the 7-3 victory with two timely turnovers.

Fred Farrell of Brinkley, found the alley on a Paul Conner punt and returned it 26 yards to midfield as the first period ended.

Dempsey, a Memphis product, sprinted out twice for nice gains and completed to short passes to Paul Ramey and David Cox, moving the ball to the 21.

Fullback Glen Hockersmith of Benton got five yards and sophomore Russell Cody of Russellville got to the seven. He went in from there, breaking two tackles. Bob White converted with 11:39 left in the period.

White kicked a 34-yard field goal about six minutes later after the Reds reached the Whites' 17.

Danny Geoghagen, a sophomore from Hattiesburg, Miss., picked off an errant John Elchler pass early in the third period and returned it to the White 38.

The Reds proceeded to put on a sustained march with all four backs, quarterback Gordon Norwood, fullback Mike Hendren, fullback Richard Coleman, and wingback David Dickey, sharing the load. They picked up two first downs to the 15.

Noseman John Curtis knocked Hendren down for a three-yard loss in a second and eight situation but Norwood hit former Pine Bluff teammate Jim Barnes for 13 yards and a first down at the three.

Norwood and his center failed to make connections on the snap and monster man Max Peacock recovered at the five.

The Reds' moved over 50 yards in the final two minutes but sophomore linebacker Lynn Garner of Fort Smith Northside intercepted Norwood's hurried, and weak, throw inside the 20 with less than 20 seconds left.

Both teams had 15 first downs and were about equal in total offense. The Whites, surprisingly, had the edge in rushing but the Reds were far ahead through the air.

Coach Frank Broyles and his staff get another chance to learn a little bit more next Friday at Fayetteville, the date and site of the final spring game.

Bob Veale Finally Beats Cards 6 to 2

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Veale, already 6-foot-6, must feel about eight feet tall now after finally slicing the St. Louis Cardinals down to size.

The giant Pittsburgh left-hander looked more like a midget chopping away at the Cardinals in vain for 2½ years, but Friday night he stood over them with a 6-2 victory.

The triumph was the first for Veale over the Cardinals since July, 1964, and gave him half of Pittsburgh's six victories this season — he has yet to lose — as he continues to grow in stature as one of the National League's best hurlers.

The Atlanta Braves also faced a giant obstacle, an 8-0 deficit, but rose to the occasion and overcame the Philadelphia Phillies 9-8.

First place Cincinnati continued to stand tall with a 7-1 victory over the New York Mets while the Houston Astros outlasted the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 13 innings and San Francisco stopped any growing pains Los Angeles entertained, 5-4.

In the American League, Baltimore tripped Detroit 5-3, Minnesota halted Washington 7-3, Chicago beat Cleveland 3-2, New York took California 5-4 and Boston blanked Kansas City 3-0.

The Braves spent much of their evening climbing uphill after Don Lock drove in four runs for the Phillies with a three-run homer and a single.

But Hank Aaron cut into the eight-run lead with a three-run homer and a run-scoring single as the Braves scored five times in the fourth and three in the fifth. Aaron then singled Felipe Alou to third in the ninth, where he scored on a fielder's choice.

High-riding Cincinnati won its third straight and eighth in nine games on Sammy Ellis' six-hit performance, including Ed Kranepool's homer for the only Met run.

Vada Pinson and Pete Rose buried the Mets with three hits and two RBI each.

Eddie Mathews was the big man for Houston as he tripled leading off the 13th and scored on Aaron Pointer's sacrifice fly in an up-and-down contest.

Rookie Don Wilson had a one-hitter and a 2-0 lead in the eighth for Houston before Ron Santo capped a three-run outburst with a two-run single. But Cub reliever John Upham wild pitched the tying run home in the ninth with two out.

Houston almost won it in the 10th after Chicago took a 4-3 lead. Jim Wynn tied it with a homer, but Jim Landis was out trying to steal home with the bases loaded and two out.

Tom Haller cut short a two-game Los Angeles winning streak by doubling home two runs in the eighth inning off Phil Regan to overcome a 4-3 deficit.

At Ferrara of the Dodgers and Ken Henderson of the Giants, earlier had traded two-run homers.

Bradley Signs With Knicks for $500,000

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knickerbockers think Bill Bradley can be a super star of the future to rival Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas, Rick Barry, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West.

"For the first time we have a potential super star," said Ned Irish, president of the Knicks Thursday when it was announced Bradley had signed a four-year contract believed to call for close to $500,000.

"I don't say he'll do it," said Irish. "But he has a chance to do it."

Bradley, an American at Oxford for two years as a Rhodes scholar, was drafted by the Knicks when he came out of Princeton in 1965 as a celebrated All-America and Olympic star. He chose to continue his studies.

"We had several meetings with Bradley and his lawyer, Larry Fleisher," said Irish. "This covered a period of several weeks while Bill was home on vacation. He had to return to Oxford last Friday but flew back Tuesday and Irving Felt and I completed the arrangements Wednesday night."

Although no terms were announced, Felt, chairman of the board of Madison Square Garden, which owns the National Basketball Association club, said, "To my knowledge the contract is for one of the largest money amounts ever paid a professional athlete in a team sport."

Willie Mays, the highest-salaried baseball player, gets $125,000 a year. Boxers make more, but they are not in a team sport.

The Knicks will have to wait before cashing in on their investment in Bradley because he is in the Air Force and will be on active duty from July until January. Presumably, he will join the club in mid season.

Bradley, 23, is a 6-foot-5, 205-pounder, did not play last winter except for sporadic appearances with a team at Oxford University which he described as "something like cricket at Crystal City." (his home town in Missouri).

After leading Princeton to third place in the NCAA tournament in 1965, Bradley played amateur ball with an Italian team at Milan in 1965-66.

"I hope I can perform capably for the Knickerbockers," said Bradley, attired in a light blue Knick blazer. "There was that nagging thought I had in Europe that I wasn't playing against the best. This should not be construed to mean that I want to show I'm better. There is great question in my own mind."

Bradley said he had been approached by the New York team of the new American Basketball Association, a potential rival to the NBA.

"My decision has been made," he said with a note of finality. "I would just as soon not say anything about money."

Bradley, an articulate young man whose ultimate ambition is "to be of service to other people," did his best to explain his reason for playing pro. He apologized for fear his words might

A 'SPECTACULAR' in itself, besides the many spectacular events it will house, is the new Madison Square Garden Sports and Entertainment Center over New York's Pennsylvania Station. The entire roof of the structure is cable-supported, leaving every spectator a view unobstructed by pillars. Each of the 48 steel cables supporting the roof is 3½ inches in diameter, stretching over a roof that is 425 feet across. The cables and their sockets are the largest ever built by Bethlehem Steel.

Maris Finds a New Life With Cards

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — "The last five years for me were hell — several times I've left the ball park and thought I'd just keep on going to the airport and chuck it all," Roger Maris said today, explaining that he has found a new baseball life with the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I am happy and relaxed for the first time almost since I can remember. It's nice to go out on the field and know people are behind you. It makes you concentrate and want to give your best."

The 32-year-old outfielder hit a record 61 home runs for the New York Yankees in 1961.

Maris then saw his career go into a tailspin as a result of injuries and clashes with New York newsmen and said he was contemplating quitting the game until he was traded to the Cardinals last December.

"I went to Ralph (Manager Ralph Houk of the Yankees) last July," Maris recalled. "I told him I was fed up, I couldn't take it any longer. He told me to wait."

"Then I was traded. Even then, I didn't know whether I wanted to continue. But I decided to give it a try. So far, it's worked out well. I am happy playing baseball again."

"But I don't know how long it will last. If I suddenly decide I'm not doing the Cardinals any good, I'll quit. I'll quit after this year."

Maris is hitting .318 with the Cards. The fans love him. His teammates think he's terrific.

"Nobody knows what I went through with my last few years with the Yankees," Maris said.

"Some of the sports writers gave me a rough time. They said I was selfish and lazy and that my only interest was in making money for Maris."

"The fans picked it up. They gave me a lot of gaff. They were on my back every time I went on the field."

"That's not all, I had trouble in every American League park except one — Kansas City, my home."

"It's different now. At St. Louis, the people are wonderful. They act as if they're all for me. It's true in every National League park I've been in."

Lakers Hire New Coach, Ex-Marine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers, after their worst season since moving here from Minneapolis seven years ago, have tapped Willem (Bill or Butch) Van Breda Kolff to lead them back to prominence in the National Basketball Association.

Van Breda Kolff, an ex-Marine with a brilliant college record, including four Ivy League titles in the past five years at Princeton, was officially named coach of the Lakers at a news conference Thursday.

The new coach has a three-year contract and, though terms were not disclosed, reports were Wednesday, when Van Breda Kolff's impending appointment became known, that the pact called for $30,000 a year.

Meanwhile, Fred Schaus, who coached the Lakers since their arrival on the West Coast, will move up to general manager, succeeding Lou Mohs.

Mohs was named by owner Jack Kent Cooke as executive vice president of Cooke's trio of sports teams — the Lakers, the new Kings of the National Hockey League and the Wolves of the United Soccer Association.

Van Breda Kolff, 44, coached at Lafayette and Hofstra, before Princeton.

Last year, the Lakers fell to third place in the Western Division with a 36-45 record. In the playoffs, they were quickly eliminated by San Francisco in three straight games.

Following Successor were Circle M Farm's Gallant Moment, C. V. Whitney's Fight or Flight, Charles Parker's Ask The Fare, Llanollen Farm's Tumble Wind and Crimson King Farm's Solar Bomb, in that order.

Successor, who was expected to become a co-favorite with Wood Memorial winner Damascus in the Derby, just didn't.

But the Blue Grass, which has produced four of the past five Derby winners, did drop Diplomat Way and Proud Clarion into more prominent Derby speculation.

Court Censorship

The danger of judicial censorship is contained in federal court actions and decisions affecting trial procedures. In Illinois, a U.S. District Judge ruled that newspapers could not publish news of jurors. The Chicago Tribune brought suit against the judge, charging censorship. The judge wisely modified his stand. The public should understand the difference between regulation of court officers and judicial efforts to muzzle the press. Though the courts may be unwise in trying to limit what prosecutors and defense attorneys release to the press, they have a basis for exerting authority. The courts are without constitutional mandate to tell news media they cannot print the names of jurors as disclosed in open hearings or on public documents. Such an order would violate the First Amendment to the Constitution, establishing freedom of speech and the press. The public has a vital interest in speaking out against court gags on the press, which distributes information needed by the public. Experience shows that government news guidelines are a threat to freedom. What news is printed should be left up to individual editor considering particular cases. This is the American way of press freedom. — Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier

Good Show

People who work in newspaper offices accumulate a lot of pet peeves, but far and away the most pet of all has to be the publicity release. Everybody from foreign embassies to local citizens' committees seems to retain a public-relations firm or employ a staff public-relations man these days. Just let their employers so much as twitch convincingly, and they've got it recorded for posterity in terms that ought to be reserved for the second coming. Their releases come in by the bale, and after a while just the sight of one is enough to give any reasonably sensitive person the hives. All of which is to explain Ted Smiley's new policy. Ted Smiley is the editor and publisher of Bryson City's Smoky Mountain Times. He's sick and tired of trying to fish out the legitimate mail from among the publicity releases, and he's resolved to put a stop to it. He's going to start printing the releases, and sending bills for advertising to the people who write and send them.

We have some doubts about Mr. Smiley's plan. He can't possibly have room to print all those things, and if he's ever contested there's not a jury in the land that will believe somebody actually intended them as advertising. But practical or not, we have to admire his attitude. Go get 'em, Mr. Smiley. — Charlotte (N.C.) News

General in Plea for U.S. Unity in War

By JACK BELL

Washington (AP) — Critics doubly predicted today further escalation of the Vietnam fighting while supporters foresaw a stiffening of homefront resolve as the result of Gen. William C. Westmoreland's Washington rounds.

Addressing Congress, briefing governors and conferring personally with key legislators Friday, the U.S. commander in Vietnam won high praise from both opponents and supporters of President Johnson's policies for his direction of the military effort against the Communists. But it was apparent Westmoreland had failed to turn the tide of crackling congressional criticism directed at Johnson's intensification of the war and at his action in bringing the general home to report at a crucial time in the battle for public opinion.

The returns from the outlying precincts would determine how the country might respond to the televised and broadcast appeal of the tall, handsomely graying general for continued strong popular support he called "vital to the success of our mission."

Westmoreland won a standing ovation when he told Congress: "Backed at home by resolve, confidence, patience, determination and continued support, we will prevail in Vietnam over Communist aggression."

Such influential members as House Speaker John W. McCormack and Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Cal., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, thought this appeal would "increase the spirit of resolve" at home to see the war through to victory.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford applauded Westmoreland's call for unity at home. Such unity, he said, will "bolster the morale of our fighting men (and) convince the Communists that the Vietnam war must end."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who has opposed escalation of the war, told reporters he thinks that on the basis of Westmoreland's report more men and money will be poured into the war. He said he will not be surprised if more than a half-million U.S. troops

Forage and Stock Study Planned Here

The Southwest Branch Station of the University of Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station will hold a Livestock Production and Forage Utilization Study Day on Friday, May 19, according to Cecil M. Bittle, assistant director in charge.

The program will get underway at 9:45 a.m. at the Beef Bull Performance Test Barn. At 10:00 a.m., the visitors will be taken on a tour of new steer grazing management pastures by Dr. A. E. Spooner, agronomist with the Experiment Station. At 10:45 a.m., Dr. M. L. Ray, animal husbandman, will conduct a tour of four new cow-calf herd grazing management studies.

The afternoon program will start at 1:00 p.m. at the Recreation Area on the main campus of the Hope Station. During this portion of the program, Spooner will present results of four years of steer grazing management studies, and Ray will present results of four years of cow-calf herd grazing management studies. Also, Dr. E. M. Cralley, director of the Agriculture Experiment Station, will discuss developing a research program to meet the livestock industry's needs, and C. A. Vines, director of the Agricultural Extension Service, will speak on Extension's role in helping livestock producers interpret and apply research information.

A panel discussion, featuring Spooner, Ray, Dr. Carl Leuker, Extension animal husbandman, Harry Wellhausen, Extension agronomist, and Don Adams, Extension agronomist (soils), will follow. The program will end at 3:30 p.m., said Bittle.

With Careers in Mind Students Will Visit Industries in Hope

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

Arkansas has a fine organization called Careers Incorporated which has headquarters in Little Rock and is especially aimed at securing jobs for young Arkansans to keep them in Arkansas. That's fine. Now, why can't somebody perform a similar service for the city of Hope?

Such was the thinking among local civic leaders that has resulted in plans for a day of visitation by members of the Junior Class of Hope High School to seven centers of industry and training in our town on Friday, May 15. This will be a co-operative effort on the part of civic clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, educational institutions, and industries. Similar visits are planned for the Junior Class at Yergers High on Friday, May 12.

Members of the HHS Junior Class and their teachers will leave Hope High School next Friday morning at 8:45 a.m. in six groups, two in busses furnished by Hope High and four in busses provided by Red River Vo-Tech School. During the day, the groups will visit Hope Eggland, Hope Wire Products, Corn Belt Hatcheries, Standard Generator, Southern Plaswood, Kilpsch and Associates, and the Red River Vocational-Technical School.

A noon luncheon will be served in the high school cafeteria and it is hoped that representatives of local industries will join the students for the meal. The tours will be divided into morning and afternoon sessions.

The purpose of these visits is to better acquaint the students with the employment possibilities and the types of industry in Hope. At the same time, teachers will have the opportunity to view the needs of business establishments in Hope in relation to employees and will, thus, be able to train students in a more thorough manner. Or, the instructors will be able to prepare the student to receive further training from employers.

Junior Class students are the chosen ones for this close-up view of job opportunities in Hope, for they will be here to receive another year of training in local schools. Then, in seeking higher education some will be better able to choose their proper direction.

For those who do not plan to seek higher education, perhaps training in our local Vo-Tech School will be the answer to their quest for job opportunities. Each student will be given a good look at what Hope has to offer them. Then, those who make the tours will be asked to write an essay summation of what they have seen. Nice awards to the students with the top three entries will provide an incentive to them to observe well on the tours and put their observations on paper.

This is the first time such a venture has been undertaken in Hope. To be sure, younger groups have often visited institutions such as the Post Office, but always it was "just to see." The older students will be changing earlier fascination to an adult desire for further information.

Courthouse Is Garden Club Project

Hope Council of Garden Clubs discussed present condition of County Courthouse landscape with County Judge Finis Odom with interest and concern and propose suggestions for improvements.

J. K. Ball, Extension Horticulturist, assisted the Garden Club Council in drawing suggested landscape plans to include shrubbery requiring minimum maintenance offering most resistance to disease. The specialist commented that the courthouse is a beautiful building, and needs proper landscaping to add to architectural features.

County Judge Odom suggests that the courthouse should be the most beautiful place in the county. He notes that the courthouse belongs to the people of Hempstead County and that someone from each family visits the courthouse several times during the year. Visitors also often create an opinion of the county from the appearance of the courthouse. He expressed his interest to the Hope Garden Club Council as they visited the courthouse several times observing that shrubbery has outgrown usefulness and beauty. After careful consideration and counseling with the Extension Service, the Garden Club Council recommended a landscaping program for the most beauty with least maintenance.

The Hope Council of Garden Clubs is composed of the Daffodil, Gardenia, Iris, Lilac and Rose clubs.

Mrs. Lonnie Crow is chairman of the city Beautification Committee of the Garden Club Council. Others serving on committee are Mrs. Charles Stone, Council President; Mrs. Bob Turner, Mrs. Owen Nix, Mrs. Ned Purdie, Mrs. Roy Taylor, and Mrs. Chris Petro.

Highest Tower, Claims Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union claims it now has "the world's highest tower" — the 1,761-foot Moscow television tower, which is 705 feet taller than the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

The claim by Tass, the official Soviet news agency, conflicts with published figures on two American towers. The TV tower of station KTHI-TV in Fargo, N.D., is 2,063 feet and KSLA-TV in Shreveport, La., has a 1,898-foot tower.

Tass said the last section for the Moscow tower was put in place Thursday.

Alert Driver Tells Police of Stolen Car

An alert cement truck driver was credited with recovering a stolen car that resulted in the arrest of its three occupants, Lt. Guy Downing of the Arkansas State Police said today.

Enroute to Malvern Friday morning with a load of cement, Wayne Boyett, of Washington, driver for Southern Cement Co., saw three hitchhikers on the highway. Returning later in the morning Boyett saw the trio drive a car out of the Prescott Garment Plant's parking lot.

He trailed behind the trio in the 1958 Chevrolet until he reached Perry's Truck Stop where he reported what he saw to Radio Operator Lawrence Sparks at State Police Headquarters.

Mr. Sparks gave the message to Lt. Guy Downing who set up a road block at the Red River bridge at Fulton where he stopped the car and apprehended three subjects listed as Clemente Fernandez, 25; Gloria Fernandez, 23, and Carle Belmares, 23, all of San Antonio, Texas.

Thus the car, owned by Mrs. Jimmie Sutton of Rosston, Ark., was recovered before the owner realized it had been stolen.

Six Canadian Airmen Die

TRENTON, Ont. (AP) — Six Canadian airmen were killed Thursday night when a four-engine Canadian Air Force Hercules transport plane crashed and exploded during a practice landing.

The 36-ton turboprop burst into flames when it hit the ground about 1½ miles from the end of the main runway of the Trenton Armed Forces Base. The explosion set fire to trees a quarter of a mile from the crash, and officials cordoned off the area for half a mile.

Prayer Part of Commencement

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The graduating class of Overlea High School has voted to include the Lord's Prayer set to music in its commencement exercises in June.

The vote, 394 to 21 by secret ballot, was taken after an unidentified student voiced his opposition because of the Supreme Court ruling banning compulsory prayers in public schools.

John F. Cassidy, school principal, said Thursday he felt singing the Lord's Prayer as a hymn did not constitute prayer in the school.

Rail Strike Extension a Sure Thing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears certain to grant President Johnson's request for a 47-day extension of the no-strike period in the nationwide dispute between the railroads and six shopcraft unions.

But several senators made clear their support was based on the President's pledge that he would submit legislation within a few days to solve the dispute.

The Senate Labor Committee approved the extension resolution 15 to 0 Friday afternoon, within several hours after the decision to request it had been reached at a morning White House conference.

The House Commerce Committee appeared ready to follow suit Monday morning.

Then both branches are expected to pass the resolution Monday afternoon, sending it to Johnson for his signature well ahead of the threatened strike at 12:01 A.M. Wednesday.

The White House originally said a 45-day extension had been agreed upon, running to June 17. But it was discovered this was a Saturday and the resolution as introduced in Congress specified June 19.

Many a Human Heart on Occasion Likes to Retreat to Yesterday

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Confused and dismayed by the hazards and hurries of now, many a human heart likes on occasion to retreat into yesterday.

Memory throws a glamour over the past, softening its harsh edges and omitting its pitfalls.

"Remember the good old days?" one oldtimer wistfully asks another. And each silently recalls the golden days. Each forgets that yesterday had a tarnish as well as a luster — just as every time in history has had, including now.

What was so terribly, terribly good about those so-called "good old days?"

Looked at honestly, they presented quite an ordeal of survival. The big wonder is that anyone lived to tell their tale.

The good old days were really better for germs than for people. Tuberculosis and pneumonia and the infectious diseases of childhood cut short the journey of life more effectively than heart attacks and cancer do now.

Was life really more sterling in any previous generation? In those good old days when:

The farm vote controlled the politics of the nation. Everything had to be done by hand. Rugs were beaten by hand. Cars and telephones were cranked by hand. Lawns were cut by the power of the two-hand push.

Kids spent most of their time between November and April scratching the itchiness caused by wearing long woolen underwear.

If a youngster got caught in even an innocent fib or said a

Arkansas Cities Warned of Losing Officers to Departments, Industries

Hope and many other Arkansas cities are in danger of losing their best peace officers to other departments and industry, Clovis Copeland of Little Rock said at the closing session on Police Management at the training school for Law Enforcement Supervisors at the Diamond Cafe.

He said a pension system, job security, more pay and shorter hours were some of the fringe benefits that can be inaugurated to keep the better officers from moving to other jobs.

He suggested that the city fathers look to the possibility of adding to cost levied on fines as a means of supporting a pension plan and increasing salaries.

An inspection team headed by Police Chiefs Marvin S. Miller of Arkadelphia and W. D. Webster of Ashdown was highly complimentary of Hope Chief Alvin Willis. The report said he was "doing a remarkable job with the money and manpower available."

They warned however that the growing transient population and increasing crime-rate, the cost of law enforcement and crime detection was going up.

Copeland said that Hope taxpayers were spending about a cent a day for law enforcement and this was about one tenth of what is considered standard for good enforcement.

He urged peace officers to take a greater part in community affairs so they could get their side of the story over to the people, for whom they work.

"Crime does not look the same on the street as it does in the legislative halls," he said. "Peace officers do most of their work in tense, fast-moving situations that have few similarities to a calm court of law."

He said lax gun laws was one reason a peace officer's life was always "on the line."

He warned the peace officer supervisors that "the preservation of our basic freedoms is dependent upon our system of justice," and that "we should never forget that should the effectiveness of the law enforcement officer in the field drop to a critical point," our entire way of life could perish overnight.

The next session for police supervisors for 20 Southwest Arkansas counties will be here June 13-16. It is sponsored by the Arkansas Law Enforcement Academy and financed by the Office of Law Enforcement Assistance, U. S. Department of Justice.

Instructors included H. P. Hargis of Pine Bluff, former superintendent of the Arkansas Boys Industrial School, who is the coordinator; Ben Finley, Little Rock, State Education Department; Police Chief Wayne Hyden of Springdale and Lt. E. L. Crist, training officer for the Little Rock Police Department. Copeland is special project director.

Wallace Is Very Hard to Pin Down

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Trying to pin down Alabama's former governor, George C. Wallace, at this point in his political career is like trying to squeeze ice cream.

Earlier this week he indicated he might run for president in 1968, but he wouldn't say so, and this was about one tenth of what is considered standard for good enforcement.

He tracked, saying the newsmen had him mixed up. If he did run, he certainly couldn't win. But if he took enough votes away from Democratic and Republican candi-

Last Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press" he was asked if this threat to run for president was just "to blackmail one of the parties into accepting your need for conservative candidates and party platforms."

Wallace denied any thought of blackmail but earlier this year announced that if the two national parties "don't swing around and fly right in 1968" he would be preaching the conservative cause from coast to coast.

When he ran in 1964 — that is, before he dropped out of the race — he said his purpose was to "conservatize" the two big parties and, if he could keep either from winning, he would gain a pro-Southern bargaining position.

Wallace withdrew from that race after the Republicans nominated Sen. Barry Goldwater. This might have been interpreted as meaning Goldwater was conservative enough to suit Wallace. But he didn't endorse Goldwater.

And something else might have influenced him to pull out. A number of his supporters began to desert him for Goldwater, thus facing him with the possibility of a Wallace-Goldwater split that might leave the Democrats with a majority.

But, anyway, he quit after saying he wouldn't quit. The former governor, 47 and a segregationist, says "I am not against the policy of non-discrimination," explaining he would not advocate segregation in any state. But he thinks Alabama's public schools should be segregated.

When asked if he became president whether he would advocate repeal of the civil rights laws now on the books, Wallace said he would advocate modifications and in the next breath said he would advocate some repeals.

He complains repeatedly of federal interference with what the states want to do with their domestic institutions. So, since practically all of Alabama's school superintendents were trying to meet federal requirement to desegregate, he was asked why his wife, Lurleen Wallace, Alabama's present governor, is telling them not to.

He was asked a further question: Didn't this mean he was using the very kind of force he doesn't want the federal government to use? Wallace went into a long, spiraling answer which seemed to say the local subdivisions of a state should not be compared with the states and the federal government.
